

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Used Black Waste Holding Tanks.

As of the 1st May 2019 Tek Tanks can no longer accept used black waste tanks in for repair or as a tank template. This also applies to all used black waste accessories and associated equipment.

If you require a replacement tank a simple sketch showing the shape, dimensions and fitting locations is all that we need. For additional help visit our website www.tek-tanks.com click on Assistance, Custom Tank Order Process and download our Quotation Request form.

Please phone for more information if your tank or sender is still in warranty.

Diesel Fuel Tanks

As of 2015 CE marked diesel fuel tanks manufactured from HDPE (High Density Polyethylene) cannot be installed within an engine compartment.

A polyethylene tank may be installed in an engine compartment if it is shielded so that it is effectively outside the engine compartment. An insulated box around the tank will suffice.

Alternatively, if it is not practical to shield the tank or provide an insulated box, then Tek Tanks can supply a diesel tank that does not carry the CE mark. A non CE marked tank would be manufactured with the same exacting standards as a CE marked tank and still have the full 5 year warranty.

A non CE marked tank would not however be suitable for a new boat being built under the current RCD.
